Melbourne Flag

Melbourne Flag For Melbourne

THE ancient Parish Church of Melbourne was packed for the morning service yesterday, when the guest preacher was the Archbishop of Melbourne, Australia, the Most Rev. J. J. Booth. The Archbishop presented the Vicar (the Rev. R. J, Morris) with a silk flag on behalf of the city of Melbourne, "a symbol to a land which has done so much for freedom." Following the service, conducted by the Vicar, members of Melbourne Parish Council were presented to the Archbishop by the Council chairman, Mr. C. Bell. The flag will be hung on a memorial window it is proposed to place in the church, along with a Union Jack.

Derby Daily Telegraph - Monday 24 May 1948